

Joan Giné

DOQ Priorat

Grenache, Carignan and Cabernet Sauvignon.
Slate soil (Slate of the Carboniferous period).

Grenache and Carignan vines over 35 years old, and Cabernet Sauvignon vines are 20 to 25 years old. The plots are located in different areas: Bellmunt, Gratallops, Torroja, La Vilella Baixa and El Molar.

The varieties, from selected low-yield vineyards, are vinified separately, fermenting at a controlled temperature between 20 °C and 22 °C. Maceration is long, about 24 days. Subsequently, malolactic fermentation takes place, mixing the varieties and finally being introduced into the barrels. Aging lasts about 12 months and is carried out in French and American oak barrels at a controlled temperature of 18°C. After aging, the barrels are blended and bottled.

Dry and complex red wine due to the combination of aromas from grapes and wood.

Between 14° alch. vol. i 15° alch.vol.

Between 16 °C and 18 °C and up to 20-25 years after harvest. We recommend decanting it before serving.

Structured, persistent, full, voluptuous and long wine. Well combined with red meats and in general, with foods high in protein. Also with certain cured cheeses such as goat or sheep cheese, parmesan and foie.
